THE 2014

Reid Family

Christmas Spectacular

- 1 - Red Sovine - Here It Is, Christmas
From The King of the Bummer Christmas, this has to be the most depressing one yet.
- 2 - The Ebineezer Scrooge Appreciation Society - Hang On Rudolph
From Double Crown Records "Seasonal Favorites, Vol. 1". I know nothing more.
- 3 - The Donnas - Up On The House Top
From a 2009 WalMart-only compilation, apparently.
- 4 - The Marx Brothers - Sanity Clause
- 5 - Wild Billy Childish & the Musicians of the British Empire - Santa Claus
From the best garage rock Xmas album ever, 2007's "Christmas 1979". Dig it!
- 6 - Hanoi Rocks - Dead By Xmas
A seasonal death wish from the world's last hard rock band. From 1982's "Self Destruction Blues".
- 7 - Blondie - We Three Kings
Debbie and the gang gave this one away to fans in 2009.
- 8 - The Cats & The Fiddle - Hep Cat Holiday
Maybe our oldest track ever. From 1940!
- 9 - David Myles - Santa Never Brings Me A Banjo
From Classified's "Inner Ninja" co-hort's new "It's Christmas with..." album.
- 10 - Rhett Miller & Sydney Waysef - Chistmas Is Coming
Rhett's put out a number of Xmas ditties over the years with the Old 97's. Here's one from last year.
- 11 - Shinyribs - TwangTrust Xmas Greeting
- 12 - Sarah Harmer - Country Christmas
From a new comp benefitting a music program for Kingston, ON's Boys & Girls Club, "Christmas is for Boys & Girls". Do what's right - you still need to buy it for the Oh Susanna cut!
- 13 - J. W. Thompson & Little Betty Ashley - The Christmas Dolly
Truly glorious sap.
- 14 - Joseph Arthur - Please, Don't Get Drunk This Christmas
Featuring R.E.M.'s Mike Mills on bass and vocals, Joseph did this one last year for the A.V. Club.

- 15 - Bob Dorough/Miles Davis - Blue Xmas (To Whom It May Concern)
A 1962 side from the guy who brought us School House Rock. And Miles Davis! Check out the full story in a great new Xmas music film, "Jingle Bell Rocks!" at a theater or DVD retailer near you.
  - 16 - Meiko - Maybe Next Year
2007. Big thanks for this (and at least four other cuts this year) to Rosie Supan!
  - 17 - Tracy Bonham - Santa's Hungry
Part 2 of this song is on Tracy's "All I Wish Every Christmas" EP, but this one is way creepier.
  - 18 - Josh Weller, Paloma Faith & the Arctic Circle Ensemble & the Puffin Voices - It's Christmas (& I Hate You)
From the 2008 Fuzzy Feeling EP. A bunch of Limey's I've never heard of. But it's great!
  - 19 - The Both - Nothing Left To Do (Let's Make This Christmas Blue)
We were lucky to see Aimee Mann and Ted Leo at the Folk Fest this year. They're currently on a Christmas tour with John Hodgeman and Bangle Susanna Hoffs. Sigh.
  - 20 - The Watson Twins - This Holiday
A sublime folk-pop ditty from 2013.
  - 21 - Mark Kozelek - I Believe In Father Christmas
Some thought Mark was in serious competition for jerk-of-the-year, but he still released one of the year's best albums (Sun Kil Moon's "Benji"), did a brilliant show at the W.E.C.C. and even made a swell Christmas album, "M.K. Sings Christmas Carols". My copy is the first one he ever autographed.
  - 22 - Charles Bradley - Every Day Is Christmas (When I'm Lovin' You)
A Dap-Tone side from 2010.
  - 23 - Mike Plume - Angels in the Snow
After treating us to many original Xmas songs over the years, Mike finally made a genuine Xmas record last year called "Back Home for Christmas".
  - 24 - John Entwistle - I Believe in Everything
One of the main songs that kindled my obsession for cool rockin' Christmas music. From the first solo album from a member of The Who, 1971's "Smash Your Head Against The Wall"
  - 25 - Blue Rodeo & Kathleen Edwards - Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas
This song is on Blue Rodeo's new Christmas album but it doesn't have special guest Kathleen Edwards on it. This is live on Strombo's "The Hour" from a couple years back.
- BONUS TRACK - The Smothers Brothers - The Christmas Bunny
A double-sided single from 1969. Thanks Dave!
